GENERAL PARAGRAPHS

By Overland Mail.

MUTILATED FRACTIONAL CURRENCY.

[From the Washington Chronicle, Feb. [illegible]

The amount of mutilated fractional currency and United States notes now being received at the redemption bureau of the Treasury Department, for exchange is much greater than ever before, and requires the force employed in that division to be at work until a much later hour in the day than usual. Since January 2d the daily amounts received for redemption from all quarters has been very heavy, and seem to be increasing daily. To-day $700,000 were received, and a much larger amount yesterday. The large sums returned for redemption indicate that the original issues of United States currency is worn to an extent that interferes with its circulation.

REVENUE IN NEW YORK CITY.

[From the New York Times, Feb. 2.

The Eighth Revenue District in this city has the largest income tax of any district in the Union, it being the residence of the most wealthy of our citizens. It is found that the whisky tax has largely increased in this district since the new law reducing the tax from $2 to 50 cents per gallon went into operation. In the months of May, June, July, and August, 1867, when the tax was $2 per gallon, there was collected here the sum of $64,529 50, but in the same months for 1868, the amount of tax collected had swelled to $271,560 12, the tax being still $2. For September, October, November, and December, 1867, the amount collected was $159,839 54; but for the same months of 1868, when the tax had been reduced to 50 cents, the amount collected was $447,307 76.

BURLINGAME'S SUCCESS.

[From the Philadelphia Press, Feb. 6.]

Mr. Burlingame continues to chaperon the Chinese Empire through the entire family of nations, and so far, his success has been flattering. Having concluded very acceptable treaties with the United States and England, he is now in Paris with his embassy, and has every prospect of doing as well in France as in other countries he has visited. Of all the marvellous wonders of modern history there is nothing stranger or more romantic than the career of this Yankee statesman, who, leaving the old beaten roads, and adopting the golden rule as the basis of his statesmanship and diplomacy, has revolutionized at a leap the customs and ideas of centuries.

PRACTICAL BONDAGE.

[From the Chicago Tribune.

Kentucky has an apprentice law under which thousands of persons are held in practical bondage. They are mostly children, and generally black or yellow. They are called apprentices, but treated as were the slaves of former years. They are entitled to no schooling, and receive none. They are subject to the lash and feel it daily. Their nominal legal rights are reduced to few by the apprentice statutes, and even when those rights are withheld or violated, they are practically without redress—the courts of Kentucky, with few exceptions, refusing to admit the evidence of black people where there are white parties to the suit.

THE DEGREE OF D. D.

[From the Boston Advertiser.]

According to statistics compiled by the Yale College Courant, fifty-two colleges in the United States have this year confirmed the degree of D. D. on ninety six clergymen. This fact would go far to remove the prevailing impression that this degree is cheap and common in our country. When we consider that the Presbyterian denomination returns about four thousand clergymen, the Congregational about three thousand, the Northern Methodists eight thousand five hundred, and the Baptist nearly or quite as many, besides the large number of the Roman Catholic priesthood, and the clergy of almost innumerable smaller denominations, the proportion of doctors of divinity must be considered on the whole as quite reasonable.

GERMAN IMMIGRATION.

[From the N. Y. Post, Feb. 4.]

The German immigration to this port has been greatly in excess of any other nationality during the past ten years, and for the last three years it has not fallen far below one-half of the total number of foreigners who have sought to find homes for themselves in this country. During the time last mentioned the aggregate number of Germans who have landed here foots up at 330,000. These emigrants are heartily welcomed, and as they are absorbed into the great cosmic character of the population of the country their effect upon our industries is advantageously felt. For the most part the Germans bring with them sufficient capital in money to enable them to take care of themselves until they can find work, and thousands of them are skilled craftsmen in the various manufacturing employments.

ESTATE OF STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS.

[From the Cincinnati Gazette, Feb. 2.]

The late Stephen A. Douglas gave a large number of lots to the Baptist University in Chicago, but the devise bids fair to be as troublesome to the recipients and as profitable to the lawyers as the Girard estate. N. P. Iglehart, acting as trustee of Mrs. Douglas, has filed his bills against the trustees of the Baptist University and others, first, to secure a lien of $60,000 which he (Iglehart) claims to hold against the estate for services and money advanced; this and other similar claims being satisfied, he asks that the transfer to the University be set aside, and the entire property declared to belong to the heirs of the deceased Senator. The grounds of the petition are, that the second Mrs. Douglas was improperly influenced so as to sign away the rights of her husband's children by his first wife. The property in suit is valued at $1,000,000.

SECRET ASSOCIATIONS.

[From the New York Sun, Feb. 4.

A petition was presented last week in the Senate from citizens of Ohio, protesting against Congress granting charters to any secret associations, such as Masonic lodges, and asking a repeal of the charter of the Masonic Hall Association of the District of Columbia, believing that they are dangerous to republican governments; that Masonic societies have for a long time directed their efforts in our country toward support of slavery and the inception of rebellion in its behalf, as a proof of which wherever pro-slavery sentiments have most prevailed within the United States, there Masonic lodges have most abounded; that the members of the lodges are bound by barbarous oaths that are repugnant to law, both human and Divine; that they teach the youth of the country the pernicious practices of conspiracy, and through a use of vague signs and symbols, insidiously calculated to deceive, they habituate the young and innocent to the ways of duplicity and demoralization, &c. The petition was appropriately referred.

EMPLOYMENTS FOR WOMEN.

[From the New York Times, Feb. 3.

Women are gradually working their way into new and more agreeable avenues of occupation. The sewing machine has greatly relieved them of the drudgery of paying the needle, and other labor-saving devices have sensibly diminished the hardship of the various domestic employments to which, not many years since, they were compelled almost exclusively to devote themselves. Women are now extensively engaged in printing and other light employments to which their strength is adapted, but which, until lately, were held as belonging entirely to the male sex. Among the last branches of industry which have grown up for the gentler sex is that of telegraphing. [illegible] with great satisfaction [illegible] telegraphic operators [illegible] the Western Union Telegraph Company [illegible] with [illegible] exception, [illegible] notwithstanding.

HOME AND FOREIGN LABOR.

[From the Philadelphia Press.

[illegible] equal [illegible] three and a half [illegible] the labor of the latter will always underestimate that of the former [illegible] the free trade and protection [illegible]

In New York a blacksmith's wages are from three and a half to five dollars a day; at Liverpool he gets from one dollar and sixty-seven cents to two dollars and a half. A good boiler maker [illegible] New York [illegible] every [illegible] New York [illegible] per [illegible] a day [illegible] market against the [illegible] English [illegible] and serfs, who eat meat [illegible] wages are [illegible] a sum which every one [illegible] figure out for himself.

[illegible]

[illegible] ernment, the pension should not cease with the marriage of the widow. The tendency, according to Mr. Perham, for women enjoying pensions to conceal their marriages or live in concubinage rather than forfeit their right to the Government donation, calls for a readjustment of the laws relating to the matter.

The Test Oath Tested.

[From the N. Y. Times, Feb. 2d.]

Mr. Smythe's appointment of Mr. Pollard to a sinecure position in the New York Custom house has served at least one good purpose. It has demonstrated the worthlessness of the test oath as a means of excluding from office unscrupulous adherents of the rebellion.

The author of The Lost Cause is one of the last men about whose attitude toward the Union while the war lasted any doubt could be reasonably entertained. He was not only a rebel during the war, but a noisy, obtrusive rebel for some time after the armies had withdrawn from the field. He was one of that malignant sort who would have had the conflict waged on the principles of savagery, and who refused to concede the fact of conquest long after national authority had triumphed. He was a non-combatant, indeed, as these ferocious strategists usually are, but as the editor of the Richmond Examiner he was incessant in his efforts to avert a pacific settlement, and to keep alive the flame of hate between the sections. His character was so notorious that when captured on board of a blockade runner and sent to Lafayette as a prisoner of State, neither he nor his friends ventured to deny his mischievous activity as an abettor and supporter of the enemies of the United States. Both he and they acted as though his rebellious characteristics were something of which he had reason to be proud.

Yet this man, when a thousand dollar Federal office came within his reach, found no difficulty in swallowing the very oath which the law provides to keep just such persons out of Government employment. The object which was intended to be insuperable proved inoperative at the point where its sufficiency might have been deemed most sure. An elastic conscience disposed of scruples. Neither the fear of perjury nor the love of truth deterred Mr. Pollard from swearing according to the prescribed formula.

The moral aspect of the question did not trouble him a moment. Its legal bearings—according to his own apologetic explanation—were all he paused to consider. Has not the term "support" a distinct legal import"—he professes to have asked himself, and, of course, he soon stumbled on a satisfactory reply. An obliging friend stood ready to help him over. "Why, Mr. POLLARD," it was suggested, "you are no more incapacitated for public office than would be BEN WOOD, who wrote against the administration, or VALLANDIGHAM, who made speeches against it." The precise resemblance between POLLARD and WOOD or POLLARD and VALLANDIGHAM we are not required to discuss. It is enough that POLLARD, an avowed rebel, did not allow the oath to block his path to office, and now seems prepared to take it as often as Smythe shall be found willing to give him the chance.

The lesson taught is not a new one. Much swearing never has aided loyalty or truth. It is a burden which the conscientious are slow to assume, and which again and again deprives the Government of the services which it most needs. Good men will not expose themselves to doubt upon the subject. They will not descend to subterfuge or quibble to adapt an oath to their wants or wishes. They interpret it literally, as it was meant to be interpreted, and are content to remain in private life. On the other hand not even the iron-clad oath, nor any number of oaths, frustrates the purposes of those against whom the public service most requires protection. They regard the Government as an enemy at whose expense they intend to live, and digest test oaths as easily as they digest their dinners. It always has been so and always will be so. The whole tendency of modern legislation in countries where relied upon to exclude particular classes, is to dispense with them as a wrong to the worthy and a bagatelle to the bad.

The Pollard case shows that the test oath is of little value as a check upon appointments to office when the party appointing and the appointee happen to be intent upon accomplishing certain ends. We know, however, that the requirement which is easily surmounted at the Custom house and elsewhere, excludes from positions of trust and profit in the Southern States thousands whose participation in the rebellion was involuntary, and, in comparison with POLLARD's, harmless. And the class thus excluded is made up of citizens whose characters and experience qualify them for useful positions. The time is not distant, let us hope, when the work of the Republican Party shall be so far completed as to render possible the correction of this anomaly.

Eight Hours a Day

[From the Iowa State Register.

The people who believe in the [illegible] that a man has worked enough when he has worked eight hours in one day, and that no one should be allowed to work more [illegible] Congress will [illegible] to make the law [illegible] over the land and to all people. They not only want Congress to make eight hours a day's work, but also demand that it shall compel an employer to pay an employe the same for the eight hours labor as he now pays for ten. The Government undoubtedly has the authority to pay its own hands a day's wages for eight hours' work, but it has no power and will not exert its power to compel individuals to pay another for labor not performed.

We are a friend to the workingman, for we [illegible] better than a workingman ourself [illegible] eight hours a day. The masses of the [illegible] Many classes [illegible]

[illegible] time is 800 gallons with 800 gallons of cream.

Brief Items

The LaGrande paper reports two feet of snow in [illegible]

Senator Hendershott of Union county has designated Lambert Carrol as student to the State Agricultural College.

[illegible] is said to be in Idaho Territory. [illegible] some Mormon tax collectors [illegible] have been there were put off by this plea.

A young child of Thomas Reeves who lives at Boise City was drowned a few days ago in a deep slough. It had wandered off alone and fallen into the water.

Jacob Firebaugh was killed at Owyhee by a snow slide some days ago. The body when found was cold and stiff. He had probably been dead two or three days.

In the first number of the London Punch for the current year is a preface dedicating the volume for 1869 to General Ulysses S. Grant, in Mr Punch's most complimentary style.

The Democratic papers of Idaho are terribly enraged at the action of Congress in passing a law to provide for the purity of elections in the Territories. A registry law which prevents Democrats from voting early and often has always been considered a great outrage by that party.

Queen Isabella of Spain appointed in the course of her reign 519 ministers, being at the rate of one in twenty-four days; 790 senators, or one in sixteen days; 1,385 brigadier-generals, or one in nine days; 291 nobles, or one in forty-five days; and has given 5,644 decorations, or one in every two days. And yet the great majority of those who were thus honored abandoned their queen in forty eight hours.

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND, Feb. 26, 1869

Gold is down to 132⅝ at New York

Legal Tenders are quoted at San Francisco at 75@75½.

New York Produce Market. Wheat dull and nominal $1 80@1 90. Flour quoted at $9@10 50. James G. Dowell's Special Market Report of the 1st inst. has the following in relation to the breadstuffs market: "Wheat very dull. The demand is confined to retail lots. Most of the receivers are unwilling sellers at present prices and have withdrawn their samples. Flour—nominal. The large stock of medium and choice grades of Western flour and the low prices at which it is forced off has stopped all demand for California and Oregon flours. * * * The prospective prices of both wheat and flour are anything but encouraging to large holders, except it shall be found that the unusually mild weather of last month may have damaged materially the growing crops. There is a large amount of both wheat and flour now on the way to this market from California." The comparative quotations of California and Oregon brands of flour, were at that date as follows: "Oregon—Imperial, $11, Salem, $10 50@11. California—Santa Clara, $10, $10 50 @$10 75; Golden Age, $10 50@10 75; Stockton City, same; other brands, $8@8 50. It will thus be seen that Oregon brands were leading the market.

Liverpool wheat market, 10s 9d.

San Francisco Produce Market—Flour, sales of 1,000 pounds, Salem Oregon, extra, in lots at current rates. Leading brands of Oregon extra, $4 75@5 25, and City Mills as follows, superfine in sks of 195 pounds, $4 62½ @4 75; extra in sks, $5 02½@5 75. Wheat, choice shipping, prior to arrivals, $1 75; fair, ditto, $1 70@1 72½; choice, ditto, $1 75; coast, $1 60; choice Santa Clara, $1 75; common to good milling, $1 50@1 70; good to choice, $1 70@1 75 per 100 pounds; for a lot of very choice a small advance on the latter figures might be obtained, good milling, $1 22½@1 70; 1,000 sks choice, $1 75 per 100 pounds. Barley, choice feed, $2 20; quotable at $2 10@2 20; good brewing, $2 25; quotable at $2 20@2 30 per 100 pounds. Oats, sales of 300 sks, fair to middling, $1 77½; California at $1 75@2 15, and Oregon at $2 10@2 20; at the close, 500 sks choice Oregon, $2 20@2 25 per 100 pounds.

Portland market dull for all descriptions of produce. Wheat and flour nominal. Corn meal has advanced 50c per 100 pounds. There is a little more inquiry for bacon, and we quote an advance of one-half cent per pound for sides. Lard is also a little better.

Merchandise Market—somewhat improved since last week. We notice a number of buyers in town from the interior, who are taking liberal bills and fair assortments. The most notable improvement in trade is in spring styles of dry goods, building hardware and gardening tools. The indications of an early spring have given to the latter line of goods quite an impetus.

Retail trade fair to good.

STOW FOUNDATION PAVEMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, January 18, 1869

☞ Hon. Frank McCoppin, Mayor of San Francisco—Dear Sir: You have now been connected with our City Government as Supervisor and Mayor for the past nine years, during which time you must have given a great deal of attention to Street Paving, and I now ask it as a special favor to me, that you give briefly, in writing, the result of your convictions relative to the several styles of street paving now in use in this city. By so doing you will much oblige

Your obedient servant,
H. F. WILLIAMS,
President Stow Foundation Pavement Co

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20th, 1869.

Henry F. Williams, Esq., President of the S. F. P. Co.—Dear Sir: Your communication of yesterday, requesting me to give in writing my opinion relative to the several kinds of street pavement now in use in this city is before me, and in reply I would say, that at the time I became a municipal officer of this city, in 1861, and for many years thereafter cobble stone was the only kind of pavement used by the city in its corporate, and by individuals in their individual capacity. About five years ago the Nicolson pavement was introduced here by Mr. J. J. Robbins, assignee of the owner of the patent, and was received with much favor by our citizens. Very many portions of our streets are now paved with the Nicolson Pavement, so-called—still later—that is to say about two years ago, the "Stow Foundation Pavement" was introduced here by the inventor, and many of our public streets have since been paved with that pavement.

A sufficient length of time has, I think, elapsed, to enable any person who has given the subject any attention to form an intelligent opinion as to the merits of the respective wooden pavements—of course, I leave the cobble-stones out of view entirely—and I have come to the conclusion, that, in many respects, such as adaptability to our wants and in durability, the Stow is the superior pavement. But, were the two pavements equal in every other respect, the facility with which the Stow can be taken up and relaid, whenever it becomes necessary to displace it for the purpose of laying down gas and water pipes, should, in my judgment, entitle it to preference and public favor.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
FRANK McCOPPIN,
Mayor of the City of San Francisco.

We, the undersigned, have carefully read the above letter from his Honor, Frank McCoppin, to H. F. Williams, Esq., upon the subject of street paving, and we fully indorse every word it contains.

No pay will be made for trips not performed, and for each of such omissions not satisfactorily explained three times the pay of the trip may be deducted. For arrivals so far behind time as to break connections with depending mails, and not sufficiently excused, one-fourth of the compensation for the trip is subject to forfeiture. Fines will be imposed, unless the delinquency be satisfactorily explained, from neglecting to take the mail from or into a postoffice; for suffering it to be injured, robbed, or lost; and for refusing, after demand, to convey the mail as frequently as the contractor runs, or is concerned in running vehicles on the route. The Postmaster General may annul the contract for disobeying the post office laws, or the instructions of the Department. He may alter the schedule of departures and arrivals, and also order an increase of service by allowing therefor a pro rata increase on the contract pay. He may also curtail or discontinue the service in whole or in part, at a pro rata decrease of pay, allowing one month's extra compensation on the amount of service dispensed with. Bids should be addressed to the "Second Assistant Postmaster General," superscribed "Proposals, State of Oregon," and sent by mail.

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequences of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz. Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON's [illegible] will give to one patient a written [illegible] effect radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use. Ten Dollars sent in registered letter, or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

From the Warm Springs.—Capt. John Smith, Indian Agent at the Warm Springs Reservation was in town yesterday. He represents everything at the Agency as quiet and in more favorable condition than at any former time since he has been there. The Indians, who number about eleven or twelve hundred, are turning their attention to farming more generally than heretofore owing, in a great measure to their success last year. They harvested last fall something over 12,000 bushels of wheat, upon which they have not only subsisted themselves and families but have realized considerable money by selling to the settlers of the Ochoco country. The idea of being sellers of grain has given them great encouragement and greater numbers than ever before, are now preparing for the coming season. The Captain thinks that if the coming season shall be as favorable as the last that the Indians will raise not less than 20,000 bushels of wheat. They have about 2,000 bushels of the last crop, upon which to live till harvest. The Indians killed during the fall and winter, over a thousand deer. The [illegible] has been unusually mild during the entire winter. The greatest fall of snow, not over two inches in [illegible] fell a few days ago, but disappeared before night. But little rain has fallen, and the weather has been most of the time clear and pleasant. There is not now much snow even on the mountains, the southern slopes being nearly bare. The Captain speaks very hopefully of the Ochoco settlement. There are now about eighty settlers there, and considerable accessions to their numbers are expected as soon as spring shall open. They have a soil of remarkable fertility. Mr. Gillingham, late clerk at the Agency, has resigned and came down to this valley, and Mr. Pickett, of Ochoco, formerly editor of the Albany Journal, has been appointed in his stead.

Eugene Items.—We clip the subjoined items from the [illegible] of yesterday: The Woolen Mill stopped work last Saturday evening, on account of the lack of wood. It will not resume operations until the spring clip......We are informed that the Rev. Mr. Miller, the gentleman who has been engaged to take charge of the Public School, has arrived in town and will commence [illegible] on the first of next month......We received a letter this week from Judge O. N. Denny, dated at San Francisco. He says he will most likely open a law office in that city. Himself and family were enjoying excellent health......Beef cattle are now selling readily for seven cents per pound, net, on foot. Work oxen that will girth seven feet will command almost any price. They are wanted for logging in the Puget Sound country. ......At a regular meeting of Jackson Engine Company, No. 1, held on the 2d instant, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: R. Lasher, President; H. Weeks, Foreman; J. C. Pursee, 1st Assistant; L. Reuig, 2d Assistant; F. Dehm, Treasurer; S. Kline, Secretary; H. W. Kerison, Wm. Richter and J. C. Pursee, Delegates......From Mr. O. N. Thornbury, who arrived in town on Sunday last from Camp Watson, we learn that the weather in that section of country has been perfectly delightful during the entire winter. The snow in the road has entirely disappeared, leaving the road in a very fair condition. Live stock of all kinds are in fine order for beef.

MISS L. HARVEY, Teacher.

[illegible] Intelligence.—We take the following from the [illegible]: Quarterly meeting services will be held in the Methodist Church in this city to-day and to-morrow......Rev. J. W. Turner was in this city this week with Supt. J. D. Merryman, to obtain a suitable plan for a new Methodist Church edifice to be erected at Hillsboro. [illegible] has had a [illegible] year so far (on the Walla Walla [illegible]). He writes that thirty-two have [illegible] to the [illegible] and several [illegible] who have [illegible] other [illegible].

A Fish Story.—A correspondent of the Dalles Mountaineer tells the following fish story: "About two [illegible] since, a very small [illegible] of the finny tribe came through the water works at Mr. Hev[illegible]'s shop, [illegible] to be at that time a [illegible] trout. Mr. J. M. [illegible] took it and placed it in a large tub, which he has in front of his livery stable for the purpose of watering horses. He had not thought of looking after the welfare of his 'pet,' until sometime during the past week the water [illegible] low in the tub, and he beheld at the bottom [illegible] about a foot and a half in length and large in proportion. This was two month's growth of the baby fish, since it made its way through the hydrant. We know that these fish must grow very rapidly on account of the immense size they [illegible] at maturity, but the great question for naturalists to determine is, how [illegible] or its parents, [illegible] and the falls of Mill [illegible], where formerly one known heretofore to accomplish the feat in the [illegible], so justly celebrated for speed?"

Discovery of New Mines.—We have received information from a [illegible] source, that a new mining district has [illegible] discovered,—or rather, the knowledge of its [illegible] come to light—on Moose creek, a tributary of the South fork of Clearwater. A party of [illegible] who made the discovery just at the set[illegible] and who have remained there at work [illegible] Lewiston a few days since after pro[illegible] with them several thousand dollars of [illegible] very handsome and coarse gold [illegible] district as rich as the Florence district [illegible] is about one hundred and eighty or [illegible] miles from Lewiston. The appearance of these men [illegible] naturally, a great excitement at Lewiston, and a party of about forty men have already started [illegible] the Clearwater. They go well fitted [illegible]. We shall expect to hear, in a short time [illegible].

[illegible] Columbia.—A correspondent at Umatilla, under date, Feb. 24th, sends the following items: "The [illegible] Creek expressman is in and reports but about two feet of snow on the summit......A mandamus has been [illegible] on the county officers of this county who removed the [illegible], etc., of the county to the new county seat [illegible] the buildings were put up; requiring them to [illegible] at Chambers at the Dalles and show cause why they removed before the county buildings were [illegible]......An Indian broke jail and escaped one night last [illegible] with him the jailer's pistol. He has not been captured yet. He was charged with larceny and was awaiting his trial at the next term of Court...... [illegible] of this place gave a grand ball last night......The Good Templars are fitting up a new Hall......The [illegible] is clear and cool.

The Concert.—The concert given by the Philharmonic [illegible] last evening was a signal success, the spacious hall being densely packed in every part by a delighted [illegible]. The performances by the musicians were of that high order which the former concerts by this Society [illegible] lead a Portland audience to expect. The [illegible] by the Society were executed particularly well, [illegible] not only fine musical talent but excellent [illegible]. It was certainly a high compliment to the leader, Dr. Hatch and to the individual performers, that every piece was encored and most of them with genuine [illegible]. We have seldom seen an audience manifest a more [illegible] degree of gratification, and we doubt if there were any persons present who would not be greatly [illegible] if the Society should announce a repetition of the entire programme.

Up the Wallamet.—The Unionist says: The Wallamet river at this place is falling rapidly. Yesterday morning it was only two feet above low water mark. If the water falls as rapidly in the twenty-four hours ending this evening, as it did in the last twenty-four, all the large boats will have to lay up......Mr. M. Fisk passed through town yesterday with a drove of 126 stock cattle, which he is [illegible] to the Dalles......The Odd Fellows will celebrate the semi-centennial or fiftieth anniversary of the introduction of Odd Fellowship into America, in this city on the 26th day of April next. Delegates from [illegible] met here this week and made preliminary arrangements. It is expected there will be a large attendance, and everything will be arranged on the most liberal scale.

The Insane Asylum.—Dr. J. S. Giltner, Visiting Physician to the Insane Asylum, made his regular quarterly visit to the institution, yesterday. We learn from him the following facts in relation to the inmates of the Asylum: The number of patients on the 20th November last, males, 73; females, 25; total, 98. Admitted during the quarter ending Feb. 27th, last—males, 6; females 7; total, 13. Discharged cured during same quarter—males, 3; females, 2; total, 5. Escaped, male, 1. Remaining in the Asylum—males, 75; females, 30; total 105. This is the largest number of patients ever confined in the Asylum at one time. There seems to be of late, a somewhat startling increase in the number of cases of insanity.

Velocipede Raffle.—The winners of the velocipede which was raffled for the other evening, have put it up again and already a considerable proportion of the shares have been taken. The raffle will take place at the Cosmopolitan Saloon as soon as the shares shall be all disposed of.

Trout Fishing.—The angling sports of this city have [illegible] the trouting season in good style. Scarcely a day passes but we see some of them coming in from the neighboring streams with baskets filled with speckled beauties. A party of four or five will start this morning for a fishing spree, out in the neighborhood of Sandy.

Religious Services.—There will be religious services in the Theater Sunday evening at half past seven o'clock. Subject—a second sermon on "The Problem of Evil and Resolution." The Unitarian Church will resume the usual morning service to-morrow, at eleven o'clock. Sunday School at half past twelve.

Information Wanted.—Mrs. D. Hale of Ann Arbor, Michigan, writes for information concerning her brother, Ira Knight. She says: "The last heard of him he was Local Indian Agent for Oregon."

Sent up for Larceny.—David Ward, tried yesterday before the Recorder, on a charge of larceny, was convicted and sent to the county jail for ninety days.

Circuit Court—Upton, Judge.—Proceedings Friday Feb. 26th.

James A. Sterling vs. Hawthorne & [illegible]—verdict of Jury, $[illegible] for plaintiff.

W. C. Wilson vs. Al. Zieber, Sheriff, action to recover possession of personal property, claimed as exempt from [illegible]—tried and submitted to jury.

Geo. Knox vs. S. D. [illegible] et al.—confirmation of sale of real estate.

J. [illegible] vs. [illegible] Hatch & [illegible]—action on contract for labor [illegible].

Railroad Iron.—Yesterday the bark Omyn was discharging [illegible] rails for the west side road. The rails are each twenty-eight feet in length and four of them weigh [illegible] ton. [illegible] there is sufficient to lay fifty-six feet of track, and the one hundred tons brought by the Omyn will reach something over a mile. We know not whether the Company will lay the rails down at once or not, but it strikes us that they would do well to lay this one mile of track and use it to fill in lots at the lower end of [illegible].

Dalles Branch Mint.—Mr. H. A. Hogue, Superintendent of the Dalles Branch Mint, was in the city yesterday. He informs us that the work of excavating for the building is nearly completed, and that the foundation walls will be begun, probably at the 15th of March.

Up for San Francisco.—The bark Omyn is up for San Francisco, failing to secure a full cargo [illegible]. It is probable she will [illegible] San Francisco [illegible] a voyage to South America, and then return here if a cargo for New York can then be had.

The Steamer Hunt.—A telegram from Olympia last evening says: "The Hunt arrived here yesterday."

Don't Forget.—Lovers of dancing should remember Prof. Cardinell's Soiree to-night at Armory Hall.

Nasby in a New Line.—Mr. Nasby has embarked in a new and paying business. Judging from the tone of his last epistle, it is ten times more remunerative than the educational institution he presided over for a short season. The melancholy failure of the Southern "Institute" oppressed the Postmaster even more than the loss of his office. He has been so near the verge of the "abyss of dispair," and wallowed so deeply in the slough of despondency that life became burdensome to him. In the nick of time his attention was attracted to the claims of Sue Murphy, when he obtained a glimpse at a plan to secure his financial salvation. He immediately hung out his shingle as claim agent for the "Corners," since which time his success has been unparalleled. With a retaining fee of ten dollars a head, and the entire custom of the "Corners," he is once more on the high tide of success. Those who bestowed horses and provisions upon their Confederate brethren are promised payment of all claims, including claims based upon the anguish and mortification occasioned by the miscarriage of the rebellion. Elated with his extraordinary success, he contemplates entering into a business partnership with Mrs. Cobb.

We hear that farmers in many places throughout Wallamet valley are at work in an energetic manner preparing for extensive crops. They could not have better weather or more favorable opportunities. It would be difficult and even impossible for a person who has not spent a winter in Oregon, to realize the advantages which this climate affords, or to form any idea of the mild and agreeable nature of the winter through which we have just passed. These days are positively delightful. No class of people, whether tradesmen, farmers, mechanics, idlers or pleasure-seekers could desire anything better.

"Chicago—Indiana."

(From the N. Y. Times, Feb. 4.)

It is the age of "State Division," and "peaceable secession;" but the telegram announcing that the Illinois Legislature had "ceded Chicago to Indiana," was somewhat more extraordinary than setting off West Florida to Alabama, or slashing up Michigan into "Ontonagon," and Wisconsin into "Superior;" stranger than biseting Tennessee, or trisecting Texas, and subdividing Pennsylvania—in fact as peculiar as creating Manhattan Archipelago.

Well, it was all, of course, what Artemus calls a "goak"—one of those bits of farce wherewith grave legislators occasionally recreate and solace themselves, and relieve the strain on their intellects. We don't say we should have blamed rural Illinois, had the matter been serious. But at any rate, it was a joke, whose explanation is that last Friday the entire Chicago delegation (except two) went home to spend Saturday and Sunday, on the plea of "consulting their constituents about the lake front and the park measures." Whereupon a Mr. Cook introduced, on Saturday, a bill "to incorporate the Farmers' Elevator Company, and to cede the City of Chicago to the States of Indiada and Wisconsin," which "amid roars of laughter was read a third time and passed—ayes 76, nays 9." And, having accomplished this stroke of facetiousness, the House next incorporated the Illinois Elevator Company, with powers fully defined in section 2, namely, "To elevate the shirt-collar of the gentleman from Pike." And so on.

Having thus relieved, as we trust, the anxieties of any New York holders of Chicago real estate, we shall now suggest to Chicago legislators to beware how they go home again in a body to "consult their constituents." Many a true word is spoken in jest. Having done this bit of "ceding" so easily "for fun," the Illinois people may try it on in earnest. We hope it will also serve as a solemn warning to our New York delegation at Albany not to quit their posts, lest some fine morning they wake up and read in the Times that the day before, the City of New York had been "ceded" to Communipaw or Bedloe's Island.

Calisaya Bark.—It is said that Messrs. Drake & Co., (Proprietors of the Plantation Bitters) are the largest importers of Calisaya Bark in this country, and that with the exception of an occasional sale, that all they import is used in the compounding of their celebrated Plantation Bitters, and to which they are undoubtedly indebted for their health-restoring properties. As a Tonic and Appetizer they are not surpassed, and we cheerfully recommend them. All first class Druggists keep them for sale.

Brown's Bronchial Troches, for Pulmonary and Asthmatic disorders, have proved their efficacy by a test of many years, and have received testimonials from eminent men who have used them.

Those who are suffering from Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, etc., should try "The Troches," a simple remedy which is in almost every case effectual.

WALTHAM WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these timekeepers.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enable them to produce watches, COMBINING THE BEST AND LATEST IMPROVEMENTS, and at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch, merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

For sale by all dealers.
No watches retailed by the Company.

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confi*dence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects* nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can be detected easily after a trial; but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

Chapman Again.

The phenomenon of the style and execution of one Col. Chapman's recent newspaper rticles was explained in our hearing by a erson who had read it, with the witty remark hat the author had accidentally found somehere a short extract from Macbeth, had appropriated it at once, and written his article round it. A similar phenomenon is exhibited n all the Colonel's written efforts. After a month's incubation he gives another article n review of Gov. Woods' veto of the Chinese Tax Bill—an article which, like its predecessors, is long, loose and garrulous, and utterly at variance with the settled law of the country. His mode of treating his subject is what, as the author of Waverly somewhere remarks, the scholar would call the periphrastic or ambagitory, and the vulgar would call the circumbendibus. Some one, with true Johnsonian elegance and force, has described such efforts as "circumlocutory cycles of rhetorical sonorosity, circumscribing an atom of ideality, lost in verbal profundity." The "ideal atom" in the long article which Chapman has just favored us with, is small indeed.

He undertakes to show that the State of Oregon, in the exercise of its police power, may "tax and regulate Chinamen and prevent their employment upon public works." A long disquisition is entered upon to prove that the States have a reserved police power, which is independent of the power to regulate commerce, granted to Congress by the Constitution. He might have spared himself the labor of this disquisition. Nobody doubts that the States have a police power which may extend to the exclusion of certain classes of persons; but the extent of that power is nothing like what Chapman claims for it. The law, as laid down by Justice McLean in 7 Howard is this: "Except to guard its citizens against diseases and paupers, the municipal power of a State cannot prohibit the introduction of foreigners brought to this country under the authority of Congress." It is admitted that a principal object of the bill to tax the Chinese was to prevent any more of them from coming into the State and to drive out those now here. Such a law clearly does not come within the police power of the State, for nobody will pretend that the Chinese are paupers or likely to become a public charge, nor will it be claimed that it is necessary to shut them out to guard the citizens of the State against diseases. If there were danger of the introduction of diseases by the advent of Chinese, those people could be kept back only under the quarantine laws, which would apply equally to all other persons who might be infected. The police power of the State is a very clear one, but it is [illegible] to push it to such an extreme as would defeat the commercial policy of the nation.

The act proposed was limited in its terms to Chinamen in the State; but immigration from China would necessarily be affected by it, and this was one of the objects of those who supported the bill. The tendency of such a measure would therefore be to diminish intercourse, without which commerce could not exist; hence it would be an interference with the power of Congress to regulate commerce, and therefore unconstitutional and void. [illegible]

Repeated attempts have been made in California to enforce laws similar to the one under c[illegible], and always without success. [illegible] has the following reference to one California case:

> The California case, [illegible] in 7 Cal. R., of [illegible] 1857, grew out of an act of the Legislature of that State, imposing a tax of fifty dollars on every [illegible] arriving in the State, incompetent to become a citizen. The opinion of the court [illegible] was light upon this question. It occupies less than half a page; and is rested entirely upon the decision in 7 Howard; concluding that the [illegible] arising in California was settled in the [illegible] case. I claim that such a judicial [illegible] of that case as the argument of counsel and its importance demanded, could not by any fair course of reasoning, have brought the [illegible] to the conclusion arrived at.

Governor Woods' review was evidently entirely ignorant of the fact that in a later California case there has been a full "judicial investigation" of this whole matter. In April, 1862, an act was passed in that State "to protect free white labor against competition with Chinese coolie labor, and discourage the immigration of Chinese into the State of California." The principle of this act was identical with that of Chapman's bill. The California act, however, levied a monthly tax of only two dollars and fifty cents on each adult Chinese in the State, a tax which was quite moderate compared with that which Chapman proposes to levy on that class of persons in Oregon. In July, 1862, a case reached the Supreme Court of California, and the act was declared unconstitutional and void. The whole question was fully argued by the Court (see Lin Sing vs. Washburn, 20 Cal.,) and a very able opinion was rendered, covering the entire ground. We append an extract from the opinion:

> It must be admitted that the act before us is a measure of special and extreme hostility to the Chinese, and that the power asserted in its passage is the right of the State to prescribe the terms upon which they shall be permitted to reside in it. This right, if carried to the extent to which it may be carried if the power exists, may be so used as to cut off all intercourse between them and the people of the State, and obstruct and block up the channels of commerce, laying an embargo upon trade, and defeating the commercial policy of the nation. The act is sought to be maintained as a police regulation; but this branch of the police power has been surrendered to the Government as a part of the power to regulate commerce, and its exercise by a State is incompatible with the authority of the Government. We may dismiss from the case the question of the power of the States to exclude paupers and fugitives from justice, for it nowhere appears that the Chinese as a class are of that description, nor does the act pretend to deal with them as such. It imposes on them a tax, but contains no provision denying to them a residence in the State; and the question is not whether they can be excluded as burdensome or dangerous persons, but whether they can be taxed for the privilege of residing here, without reference to their condition or character. That they may be taxed as other residents is not disputed, but that they may be set apart as special subjects of taxation and compelled to contribute to the revenue of the State in their character as foreigners, is a proposition which cannot be maintained. If this may be done, there is no restriction upon the power that does it, and a tax may be imposed which no human industry can pay, precluding all intercourse, and making it as impossible as if it were positively prohibited. The question is one of power, and if we admit the power we must admit it in its whole extent, as a power complete in itself to be exercised at the discretion of the Legislature, and subject to no limitation or restraint. If it exists, it may be exercised upon all foreigners residing in the State, and may be so exercised as to bar the door of foreign commerce as effectually as the Government could do it by using its mandate and closing its ports. There is no more reason in saying that a State may thwart the measures of the Government by a tax than to say that it may do so by the agency of some other power. It follows that the act is unconstitutional.

In this clear and convincing manner did the Supreme Court of California—then a Democratic Supreme Court—argue and decide this question. So conclusively was it settled on that occasion, now seven years since, that no further attempt has been made in California to impose a special tax on the Chinese.

The Democratic politician looks at this subject only with a narrow, prejudiced view, and is therefore incapable of discussing it in a candid manner. Chapman actually asserts that because the Constitution of Oregon, containing a clause excluding Africans and Chinese from the State, was submitted to Congress and accepted when the State was admitted into the Union, "the validity of that clause is placed beyond question." In other words, if Congress should in haste or ignorance admit a State having a Constitution with a clause which infringes upon the national power to regulate commerce, the Supreme Court would not have power to pronounce that clause of the State Constitution invalid. It is very noticeable that, in whatever shape the negro or Chinese question comes up, it is argued by Democratic politicians in the same narrow and unvarying circle of prejudice of and error. All good lawyers know that no attempt to impose a special tax on Chinese, can be successful, all men of common sense know that such a tax would be injurious to the State, and therefore many Democrats have expressed their gratification that Gov Woods vetoed Chapman's bill.

A Comparison.

J. L. Motley, the historian, in a recent article, shows that the annual expenses of Great Britain, with its debt funded at three per cent. are $350,000,000; those of France are, at the very least, $400,000,000. Each power is spending, at this moment, about twice as much as we spend, while the principal of the French debt is quite as large as ours and that of the English 60 per cent. larger. Yet the English three per cents are at 94, the French three per cents at 59¼, while our six per cents are hardly 75. Compare, for example, the respective positions of those two great countries, the French empire and the American Union. France has a somewhat less numerous population than that of this Union—say thirty-eight millions. The latest and most trustworthy statistics compute the yearly product of the empire at two thousand millions of francs, say $400,000,000, or exactly what was the estimate of our production a few years ago. The sum total of her debt is just equal to ours. Her yearly budget is more than double our own. How are these four hundred annual millions of dollars spent? Thanks to the superior credit enjoyed by the empire over that of the Union, the interest on her debt is but $68,000,000 gold. This leaves her $333,000,000. And how does she spend these $333,000,000? The army and navy take each year in time of peace,—the iron-clad peace, which is all Europe ever knows—about $140,000,000. The estimates for the current year of the United States Government for the army and navy together are $57,000,000 in currency; equal to $40,000,000 in gold, or $100,000,000 less than those of France.

Small Notes.

The Commercial has "let up" on the Chinese. It used to go at them like a Bull at a red rag. Somehow it seems to have lost this taurine characteristic, and the Herald has to bear the burden of the fight alone.

On the 1st February the Georgetown College Cadets, about one hundred strong, called on President Johnson. The Captain of the Cadets made a speech, and the President responded in a long harangue about his own devotion to the Constitution, and expressing the new and startling opinion that that instrument is in danger.

Our gold and silver products for 1868 are stated as follows: California, $20,000,000, Nevada, $18,000,000; Montana, $12,000,000, Idaho, $6,000,000; Oregon, $5,000,000, Colorado, $4,000,000; Washington, $1,000,000; Arizona, $250,000; New Mexico, $250,000. Total, $66,500,000. This is probably under rather than in excess, of the actual amount.

Some very remarkable conversions in opinion have been effected by our civil war. One of the most extraordinary is that of ex-Gov. Wise, who declares in a recent letter that he "praises God for the war every day, notwithstanding its disasters and deaths, as a special providence, indispensable to free me and my heirs forever from the weakness, if not wickedness, of African slavery."

A writer in the New York Journal of Commerce expresses the opinion that Goat Island, in the harbor of San Francisco, is of no consequence in a military point of view, and that its best possible use would be for railroad purposes. He suggests that it be put up at auction by the Secretary of the Interior, in which event he thinks that the island will bring $10,000,000.

Eastern journals think Mrs. Lincoln is not likely to get any pension. The injudicious and ill-timed letter she sent has very materially lessened the sympathy with which members of Congress were disposed to view her case. Senator Van Winkle has reported against Morton's bill to allow the pension, and the prospects are that his argument will be accepted as decisive by a majority of Congress.

The San Jose (Cal.) Mercury says that Freddie, a four year old son of W. J. Slocum of San Jose, went into a coffin warehouse a short time before his death and selected a metallic casket, expressing a wish to be buried therein, though he was at the time in the full enjoyment of excellent health. It is quoted as, and has the appearance of being, one of those remarkable premonitions of coming events that indicate the mysterious workings of the human soul.

The dodges which some of the politicians are playing to induce Grant to give this man or that a place in his Cabinet are very shallow and ridiculous. The idea that the Republican party in Pennsylvania will be defeated unless somebody's favorite gets a Cabinet appointment is not worth the trouble of thinking about, and Grant does well to disregard all such puerile attempts at "coercion." The Republican party is not made of such frangible stuff, and if it were, it ought to break.

In a recent lecture on Abraham Lincoln, Horace Greeley said: "The majority of our great men have only a common school education, some of them less than this. What did Lincoln lose by not having an early education? I only raise the question. Let others answer it. If he had lived to be seventy years old I think he would have lost all his hesitation and rawness. Our tall backwoodsmen needed only a sheepskin appropriately inscribed with hieroglyphics, to give his two flatboat trips the value of a liberal education in all that is necessary for successful intercourse with his fellow-men. He owed his political success in part to his earnest partizanship, in part to his logical powers, learned not from books, but in a better school, the American stump. I doubt the possibility of maintaining institutions more than nominally Republican. The American stump fills the place of the French coup d'etat and of the Spanish-American pronunciamento."

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

DATES TO FEBRUARY 26.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Feb 25.—In the Senate Chandler reported with amendment, a bill to preserve the harbors of the United States against encroachments. It provides for the appointment of a mixed board of officers and civilians, to have general supervision of the subject, and make recommendations to Congress.

The joint resolution of both houses to meet at 12 M. on the 4th of March, and agree to the consideration of the army appropriation bill was resumed.

Pending the question, there was a point of order raised by Grimes against Sumner's amendment for the payment of claims and advances made by Massachusetts in the war of 1812. After discussion the amendment was decided in order, 19 to 21.

Davis offered an amendment, which was adopted, providing for brevet appointments to be merely honorary, and conferring no command or right to pay of any kind. Several other amendments were offered and variously disposed of.

At the evening session a number of private bills were presented.

The Senate insisted on its amendment to the diplomatic appropriation bill, and urged the appointment of a new committee of conference.

In the House, Boutwell, from the committee on reconstruction, reported the evidence taken in the case of Georgia.

A bill passed which provides for the coinage of nickel five cent pieces.

Butler called up the report of the conference committee on the diplomatic appropriation bill, and moved the previous question on the adoption of the report. It was not sustained.

Banks and Mudge opposed the bill because it reduced the number of ministers resident in South and Central American Republics. Finally the report was disagreed to, ayes 45 noes 19. The house insisted on its bill, asking a new conference committee.

Boutwell submitted a report from the conference committee on the constitutional amendment as follows: The right of any citizen of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abrogated by the United States, or any State, on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

Woodward raised a point of order that it was necessary to present the joint resolution to the President for his approval.

The Speaker overruled the point of order, citing several precedents to show that it is unnecessary.

The Conference report was adopted, 142 to 43.

The rules were suspended, and the Committee of the Whole discharged from further consideration of the Legislative appropriation bill.

The bill being then before the House, Butler demanded the previous question on the bill and pending amendments, one being the amendment giving female clerks in the Treasury office the same pay as males, when doing similar work. It was adopted, 88 to 64.

At the evening session, Farnsworth reported the annual post route bill, which passed, and the House went into Committee of the Whole to consider the deficiency appropriation bill.

Washington News.

Price, resigned; Leonard to be Assistant Paymaster General; Major Alvord to be Deputy Paymaster General; Colonel Townsend to be Adjutant General, vice Thomas, retired, and several other promotions were made in the Quartermaster General and Med*ical Departments. It is said that General Grant, in conversation, has intimated that all the Southern military commanders, removed by Johnson, will be replaced. He also, in conversation with a Southern Senator, expressed himself particularly anxious for Southern reconstruction. He said North Carolina and Alabama were the best reconstructed States of all. When the rest were safely restored, ours would be the happiest in the world.

Grant and the Cabinet.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—A Washington dispatch says that among the callers on General Grant today was A. L. McClure, who asked Grant directly if he would give Governor Curtin a place in his cabinet. Grant replied that was impossible. McClure said to give satisfaction to Pennsylvania, a man must be appointed who had been prominently identified with the Republican party, mentioning several whose appointment would not be satisfactory, among them General Stuart. Grant instantly replied that he couldn't see what objection any loyal man could have to Stuart, who had done so much for his country. McClure said such an appointment would defeat the Republican party for Governor next fall. Grant replied: "I am not myself a representative of any political party, although that political party elected me." Grant said he must not infer that Stuart is the man selected. The interview excited much talk.

McClure has no doubt but that Stuart is the man selected for the Cabinet.

It has been ascertained from a member of the Committee on the Inaugural ball, that no colored persons have applied for admission.

The Speakership—Caucuses.

Dawes addressed a note to Blaine, notifying him that he (Dawes) has withdrawn from the contest for the Speakership. Blaine will probably be nominated for Speaker by acclamation.

A caucus of Democratic members will be held at the same time.

A round lot of choice Oregon, which was sold a few days ago at $1 77½, has since been resold to a miller at $1 75.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

MADRID, Feb. 25.—In the Cortes the proceedings on the occasion of the passage of the vote of thanks to the Provisional ministry were very interesting. The ministers explained their action towards the religious orders and the church. It was stated that the Jesuit cortege of Stevens was suppressed because the members were engaged in a conspiracy against the government. Three of them were accomplices in the assassination of the Governor of Burgos.

The orders directing the civil authorities to take charge of certain church property were also explained and justified on the ground that the proceedings of the clerical party demanded the interference of the government to preserve the objects of art in the churches.

When the result of the division was announced, General Serrano rose to speak. He was greeted with prolonged cheers and made a temperate and tranquilizing speech, advising the minority to pursue a policy of conciliation, in view of the firmly rooted and inexorable principles held to by a majority of the Cortes. As for himself, he promised them loyalty and patriotism.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—In the House of Commons, this afternoon, an inquiry was made as to whether legal investigation had been made before the pardon, in the case of the Fenians recently liberated.

Fortescue replied that the investigation made was quite sufficient to show that the cases differed from ordinary commutation or sentences.

In reply to a question, Monsell said that negotiations for a settlement between the Hudson Bay Company and the dominion of Canada are still pending. It was indispensable to make a statement of the prospects of building a telegraphic line through the territories of the company to connect the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, until the complete adjustment is reached.

Ottawa stated in reply to an inquiry from Torrens, that the government had received no authentic advices of the rejection of the Alabama Convention by the United States, nor any information whatever in regard to the ratification of the naturalization protocol.

John Bright, at a banquet, answered the Chamber of Commerce that he would urge the necessity of ocean penny postage.

Grant and Banks.

Eastern journals are still engaged in a lively controversy over the recent statement that Gen Banks was ordered to supersede Gen. Grant at Vicksburg. The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune puts it in this light:

> It has recently been stated with a great show of authority as well as of novelty, that during the Vicksburg campaign Gen. Banks was peremptorily ordered by the Government to relieve Gen. Grant of command. Mr. Stanton has denied this emphatically. The only foundation for the story consists in the fact that Banks was constantly and repeatedly ordered to co-operate with Gen. Grant, and that if the forces of the two Generals had come into contact, as Gen. Banks was the senior he must have assumed command. All this was known to Gen. Grant at the time, and is fully set forth in General Badeau's Military History. On page 151, Gen. Badeau says:
>
> "It is necessary to a correct understanding of all these operations and due to Gen. Halleck to keep constantly in mind that Maj. Gen. Banks had been sent to New Orleans, by sea, with an army of 40,000 men, and ordered to co-operate in the opening of the Mississippi river, and especially in the capture of Vicksburg. He was to be supported by Admiral Farragut's fleet, already so renowned, and for months his arrival was constantly expected by Grant."
>
> Then, again, on page 186, he writes as follows:
>
> "His (Grant's) design now was to move his army to some point below Vicksburg, where he might be able to supply himself by the roads and bayous in Louisiana, and thence send a corps to co-operate with Banks in the reduction of Port Hudson. After that place should have fallen, Banks, with his whole army, and the corps from Grant, was to march up and unite in the campaign against Vicksburg. Banks was the senior of Grant, and upon a junction of their forces must have assumed command."
>
> This is absolutely all there is in the matter. The Government and Grant were both anxious for the co-operation of Gen. Banks, and both urged it again and again on that officer.

The New York Sun maintains that these facts were known to Grant at the time, and that he frequently spoke of the probable arrival of Banks, under whom he expressed a cheerful willingness to serve in prosecuting the siege. The revival of the subject at this time, the Sun says, was to create an estrangement between Grant and Stanton, and keep the latter out of the Cabinet.

Gen. Grant has called on Commissioner Rollins for a list of revenue swindlers, a fact which may be regarded as good ground for the presumption that he [illegible] means business, and the very business that should be attended to first. The fact is also an intimation that may possess a peculiar interest for a class that need not be more fully described.

The largest library in Germany is that of Munich, consisting of 900,000 volumes, an increase of 100,000 in the last fifteen years. Next is that of Berlin, 700,000 volumes, and others follow in this order: Dresden, 500,000, Stuttgart, 440,000; Vienna, 400,000; Darmstadt, 300,000. The University libraries are also immense. That of Gottingen numbers 400,000 volumes; Jena, 200,000; Breslau, 150,000; Heidelberg, 220,000, and there are thirteen other university libraries having upwards of 100,000 volumes. In addition to these, there are scores of city, school and private libraries containing from 50,000 to 200,000 volumes each.

Freight for Salt Lake is now sent from New York city to the end of the Pacific Railroad without the change of cars—2,500 miles. New York cars are seen west of the Rocky Mountains. We have now the longest line of continuous railroad track in the world.

ENTERPRISE TRIUMPHANT.—The OREGON DISPENSARY is establishing a reputation second to no house on the coast as a first class and Cheap Drug Store.

Our success has been so flattering that we have sent for another Apothecary. We have also secured the valuable services of Dr. J. A. CHAPMAN as Consulting Surgeon and Physician, thus giving evidence of our desire to afford the best of everything to our patrons for their liberal patronage.

LORYEA & KALLENBERG,
73 First street.

OPPOSITION LINE OF STEAMERS.—A private letter from San Francisco says that a strong and well regulated Steamship company was formed in that city for the purpose of running a line of steamers regularly between San Francisco and Portland. The steamers are known to be suitable for the Oregon trade, and are noted for good speed and splendid passenger accommodation. The people of Oregon will have an opportunity of showing whether they are willing to patronize good and staunch steamers, at a reasonable price for freight and passage, as it will depend on the patronage these steamers will receive whether they will remain in our waters or not.

While you think of opposition, remember that KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91 Front street, have the finest stock of Clothing and Dry Goods, and sell at very low prices.

NEW TO-DAY.

WALTHAM WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen the most exacting of watch wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these timekeepers.

More than 400,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham enable them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch, merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent more for their watches than is necessary.

We are now selling Waltham Watches at less prices in greenbacks, than the gold prices before the war. There is no other manufacture of any kind in the United States of which this can be said.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watchmaking originating in this country, or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring timekeeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:

The invention and use of a centre pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Fogg's Patent pinion as being the best and faultless.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps protecting the movement from dust, and lessening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary to other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch, is already a decided success and a great improvement on any stem winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public.

To CALIFORNIANS and others living in portions of the United States, where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements which tend to insure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

Every watch bearing the trade mark of Waltham is guaranteed to be a thoroughly reliable timekeeper.

To prevent imposition, buyers should invariably demand a certificate of genuineness.

The trade supplied by Messrs. R. B. GRAY & CO., San Francisco, Cal., and generally for sale at retail by all respectable dealers.
